Overview

Purpose

I want to create a modern and retro-looking pizza website, so people enjoy using the website when they are ordering some pizza

Audience

This website is for everyone, mainly for Gen X, so it gives them the same feeling as it did when they were young

Content

I'm designing a modern, responsive website for Saucy Slices, our pizzeria known for bold flavors and a fresh, urban vibe. Built using HTML and CSS, the site will feature a clean homepage with mouthwatering imagery, an easy-to-browse digital menu, and simple contact options for takeout or reservations. My goal is to capture the energy of the restaurant online, making it as inviting and dynamic as the in-person experience, while strengthening our brand identity and creating a solid foundation for future online ordering or promotions.

Home Page: What the Specialty Pizzas are, what inspired this company, where it is located, what it is famous for, be creative with it, fill out how you would like it, make it look nice

Menu Page: A layout that shows the pizza, then it tells you what pizza it is, then how much it is, making it look nice

Leave A Review Page: A text box so they can leave a review about the pizza, make it look nice
